Employer/Insurer-Respondent.

Appeal from an April 30, 2013 Compensation Order By Administrative Law Judge Karen R. Calmeise
AHD No. 12-341A, OWC No. 646243

Michael J. Kitzman for Petitioner
Amy L. Epstein for Respondent

Before MELISSA LIN JONES and JEFFREY P. RUSSELL, Administrative Appeals Judges and LAWRENCE D. TARR, Chief Administrative Appeals Judge.

MELISSA LIN JONES for the Compensation Review Board.

ORDER DISMISSING APPEAL

Following a formal hearing, an administrative law judge (“ALJ”) denied Ms. Sharia Terry’s request for temporary total disability benefits, temporary partial disability benefits, medical expenses, and interest. The ALJ ruled Ms. Terry is not entitled to workers’ compensation benefits because her left shoulder injury is not medically causally related to her compensable accident.¹ Ms. Terry timely filed an Application for Review with the Compensation Review Board (“CRB”).

On December 19, 2013, the CRB received a letter from Trade Center Management Associates, LLC. The letter states it is unnecessary for the CRB to review this appeal because the parties have settled the case.

Because the Application for Review was filed by the Petitioner but the request to dismiss the appeal was filed by the Respondent, on December 23, 2013 an Order to Show Cause issued. On
